

RF Handheld Terminal

All the power of OGC-Plus in the palm of your hand

Much more than a simple tool, this handheld terminal is secure way to consult your OGC-Plus software and access data that is always up-to-date and complete.

OGC's high-quality implementation and powerful antennas will ensure you can reliably access information at all times no matter where you are in the store.

Always get the information you need

- Ensure displayed prices are accurate
- Inform customers of product availability or an upcoming shipment
- Answer customer questions from anywhere in the store
- Create shelf labels directly from the portable terminal

Serve your customers directly from the floor

- Create sales orders directly from the aisles
- Reduce line-ups
- Serve more customers in less time

Track your products at all times and perform fast and accurate cyclical counts

- Verify and control multiple locations
- Count products directly from the shelves
- Eliminate paper

Create purchase orders directly from the aisles

- Select ordered products directly from the shelves
- Consult sales statistics from the previous twelve months
- Verify items already on order

Optimize and streamline receiving

- Scan products directly from the pallets
- Instantly check the validity of UPC codes
- Get automatic validation of bar codes

Combine power and mobility

Accelerate your customer service

Get real-time information that is always up-to-date

Make inventory child's play

Save time and money

"This wireless technology changed how we work. Taking inventory used to be a long, arduous and very expensive process. Since we started using OGC's handheld terminal, we can go anywhere in the store to check product quantities and make corrections as needed. We get up-to-the-second information. It's really incredible!"

Annie-Claude Locas, Pépinière Locas, Laval

